Scoring: After you have completed the quiz, please add up all the total numbers. If your score is between 20 to 30 or more in the top section, you might be deficient in progesterone. If you scored between 20 to 30 or more in the middle section, you might be deficient in estrogen. If you checked either item in the last section, you may need testosterone.

Please feel free to contact NHIMA for an appointment to help assess your hormonal status further.
